ITS WINDINGS COVER 1,900 FEET OF WARREN COUNTY, OHIO.

Prof. Patnam's Corps Still Examining this Interesting Relic-Vandal Ploughs Have Obliterated Its Head and Tail-The Valley About It Once Densely Peopled.

CAMBRIDGE, Aug. 12.—The great serpentine mound which caused Farmer Stubbs so much annoyance in Warren county, Ohio, until he ploughed and dug away the ridge, was unquestionably a gigantic god which the mound builders once worshipped long centuries ago. Prof. Putnam of the Peabody Museum of Harward College vouches for the fact, and he has a corps of men examining the interesting relic to see what new testimony it will offer of the people of whose customs and characteristics so little is known. The work of exploration has just begun, and will be continued all summer and well into the autumn. Until the final report has been made Prof. Putnam will not attempt to ana lyze the returns, or deduct any conclusion; therefrom. But he told THE SUN correspondent that he hoped for some interesting developments. Already his men have excavated some skaletons and other evidences, which show that this is a serpeat mound similar in character to that in Adams county, a hundred miles distant, and which was supposed to be the only one in the Ohio Valley. The fact that this second serpent mound was constructed in the same general locality, is in itself an interest-ing bit of information to Prof. Putnam. He says It is pretty strong proof that the Ohio Valley was densely peopled at the time, else there would not be two mounds of so great size to-

This new mound is considerably longer and larger than that in Adams county. Prof. Put-nam hopes to ascertain, by means of his investigations, whether or not this fact indicates that that place was the abode of the ruler of the people, whether that was the chief place of worship, or whether that was merely the settlement of a larger band of the mysterious race. As yet he has no data on which he can work, and Prof. Putnam is not a man who indulges in wild flights of the imagination with nothing to sustain his theories.

Nevertheless, he believes that the next three months will add considerable to the information now at hand concerning the mound build-

Nevertheless, he believes that the next three months will add considerable to the information now at hand concerning the mound builders of America. Thus far there is no proof that the race had any $7$ tem of communication by words or hieroglyphics. If this second mound produces nothing of the kind it will be strong evidence that no such thing existed.

This Warren county mound is near the town of Morrow. Last spring Dr. Scoville was passing through the woods and discovered a peculiar elevation which attracted his attention, because be was looking for snakes—the snakes of the Mongoloids of unknown conturies ago. On the top of this elevation were growing inmense trees which were themselves centuries old. Rotting on the surface of the ground were the remains of other immense trunks, which must have fallen more than a century ago, and which were centuries old when they fell. And over the entire restion was a depth of a foot and more of leaf mould and loam, which was the product of untoid centuries of docay.

Dr. Scoville's practiced eye saw that the mound was too symmetriced to have been of accidental—origin—a wrinkle in the earth's crust formed by some mighty volcanie upheaval. He worked his way over fallen trees and through tangled vines in that wild section of Ohio's forest and traced the ridgeto a clearing, ever which a fine crop of carn was growing. The sinuous windings of the snake lay behind him. Before him was the dovastating work of civilization. His scientific soul rebelled at the sight, for the plough had ruined one of the finest relices of a lost race which the mind of the archeologist could conceive. It did not take him long to ascertain that civilization had tradden on the very head of the "critter." The body was still enveloped in the virgin forest, but the massive head was stamped out. Back again went the scientist, retracing his steps until be reached the place where first he mounted the gigantic body, then on and on through the woods until he came to another clearing. The march of civilization had snake was outlined by a row of stones on each side. The body is a solid mass of clay, with ashes along the edge. The exploration is carried on by digging trenches into the body at short distances apart. Graves containing the skeletons of the mysterious people have already been found with cortain articles of household use. The work has been under way but a short time, but the results thus far are very promising. Dr. Metz and Dr. Scoville are in charge of the work, but they keep Prof. Putnam informed of every move.

A PRETTY STATE OF AFFAIRS.

Somerby Makes Surprising Admissions About Iron Hall Finances.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 12. - Supreme Justice Somerby was on the stand in the Iron Hall receivership case to-day. The testimony elicited was strong enough to lead the plaintiffs to believe that a receiver will be appointed. Somerby, aithough having supreme authority, admitted that he had never given bond until this suit was brought, and then only in the sum of $5,000, with a Detroit undertaker as his security. This bond has not been approved, and is not in force.
Supreme Cashier Davis is under $50,000 bond, the witness said, but one of the sureties is dead. Somerby admitted that the time for which the Supreme sitting and officers had which the supreme straing and officers had been elected had expired. He could point out no authority for the present body to exist, except a section authorizing a special call of the sitting. The witness did not know where any of the order's reserve funds, except $3,000 in this city, had been invested as required by in this city, had been invested as required by the constitution.

He told the story of the Philadelphia Bank of which he is Vice-Prosident and which now has $720,000 of the order's money. He said that the rerson $170,000 had been donated to the bank was to tide over its embarrassment. The money was taken from the Junds of the order. If the receiver for the bank had been appointed it would have resulted in the appointment of a receiver for the order, and its utter raination. The Supreme officer deemed it justifiable to donate this money.

Dr. Seudder Defends His Brother.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.-Edgar B. Tolman, counsel for the Dunton family, publishes a card-today in which he makes a very tart reply to the Soudder in the New York Independent. A do Soudder in the New York Independent. A de-tailed statement of the murder is published in one of the papers to day. It is from the pen of Dr. Doremus Scudder, a brother of the al-leged murderer. In it he contends that his brother was insane before Mrs. Dunton's death. He also asserts that his brother was insane after Mrs. Dunton's death, and that he had no doubt deliberately poisoned himself. Dr. Doremus says that the will alleged to be a forgery is genuine.

St. Johns Thunks Her Benefactors.

ST. JOHNS. N. F., Aug. 12.—The special session of the Newfoundland Legislature opened yesterday to consider questions arising out of the recent conflagration. Chief Justice Carter, in his opening speech, expressed thanks ter, in his opening speech, expressed thanks to the people of the United States. Great Britans, and Canada for their generous contributions, and assured his hearters of Newfoundland's heartfelt gratitude for the aid so promptly rendered.

Measures for the relaying of the burned portion of the city, the relaying of streets therein, and the section of new public buildings were promised, and the necessity of a bill on the land question was strongly urged.

DANBURY, Aug. 12.-William R. White, a wealthy hat manufacturer, died in Danbury a few months ago leaving an estate valued a $250,000. By the terms of his will most of his estate was left to four children by his second wife, cutting off Caroline B. White, a daughter by his first marriage, with $5,000. Miss White is possessed of a handsome fortune of her own, but she declares that her father's will was a forger, and in the Probate Court tesday experts were summoned to show that the signature was not that of the head against turer.

INDIGNANT MRS. BRUNS.

When She Rad Been Swindled Three Times She Notified the Police, Mrs. Emma Bruns, who keeps a small candy store at 1.034 Third avenue, appeared in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday morning as complainant against George A. Taylor, an advertising agent, living at 167 East Sixtyseventh street, whom she charges with swindling her out of about $2,300.

Mrs. Bruns told Justice White that Taylor called at her place two years ago and asked her to advertise in a programme for a concert to be given by the Hain Council of Harlem. She paid for the advertisement, and a day or so later Taylor showed her two gold watches which were to be given to the person selling the greatest number of tickets to the concert. As she had advertised he was going to allow her to exhibit the watches in the window of her store. He put the watches in the window. but the next day they strangely disappeared. Taylor told her he would be arrested if the watches were not returned, and, Mrs. Bruns watches were not returned, and, Mrs. Bruns says, worked so on her sympathies that she lent him $140 to replace the articles. He never replaced them, and later Mrs. Bruns says she learned that he had removed them from the window himself and pawned them for $5 cach. On Nov. 2 she demanded her $140. Taylor told her he was short just then, but that if she had patience he would more than double her money for her. In the Garfield storage warehouse was a collection of valuable oil paintings, known as the Col. Wolshone-Craft collection, worth at the lowest $100,000. If he could raise the money to get this collection out of storage the owners would give him permission to exhibit them. Taylor said there was a fortune in such an exhibition, and Mrs. Bruns gave him $350 to nay the storage.

When Mrs. Bruns next saw Taylor several months later he told her that the picture exhibition scheme had fallen through. He showed her a certificate of stock in the Cape Breton Railway Extension Company, which, he told her, was worth $10,000. Mrs. Bruns says she believed him, and lent him $1,800 more, taking the certificate as security. When sie found that the certificate was worthless, and that she had again been swindled, she went to Folice Hecaliquariers and told her story to Inspector Stoers.

Taylor declared that Mrs. Bruns had been a says, worked so on her sympathies that she to Folice Hecalquarters and told her story to Inspector Steers.

Taylor declared that Mrs. Bruns had been a partner in all his schemes, and had taken her chances when she invested her money. The Justice held the prisoner for further examina-tion to-day.

A BIG GRAIN ELEVATOR BURNED. Fireman Babcock Saved by a Ladder Raised

At 12:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon Policeman McCabe of the West Thirty-seventh street station saw smoke rolling out of the cupola of the big grain elevator of Theodore B. Chase & Co., at the southeast corner of Thirty-fourth street and Eleventh avenue. He turned in an alarm, and then told Mr. Chase and his emplocyces, who were at work in the office on the ground floor, that the building was burning above them. The firm's books and papers were removed from the office before the firemen arrived.

The yellow pine interior of the building formed quick food for the flames, which worked their way downward against a dozen strong their way downward against a dozen strong streams from engines, water tower, and free hoat. There were about 150,000 tushels of grain stored in bins in the clevator. The bins burst under the heat, and the grain poured out through the chutes upon the sidewalk.

Firemen George E. Babcock, William Beggin, and Martin Callagy of Engine Company 34 took a line of hose to the top floor. An unexpected rush of smoke and flame from above drove Babcock's comrades down the stair. He had been in advance of them, holding the hose pipe, and he found retreat by the stairway impossible. He made his way to a window, lowered the upper sash, climbed out on the stone sill, and shouted for help. Flame leaped from all the windows to the west of bim. The men of Hook and Laider 21 raised a 35-foot ladder toward the window. The ladder was about twelve feet too short. The smoke rolling from the top of the window above labenck's head was heginning to be stroaked with red. Eight firemen caught the ladder at the bottom and pushed it up until it came within three feet of the window. Babcock let go his hold, dropped, and catching the ladder, made his way to the street. Just as he did so the flames burst from the window.

The fire was so flerce that the building was reduced to a more shell within two hours, during which traffic was suspended on the freight tracks of the New York Central on Elèventh avenue. Damage, $150,000. streams from engines, water tower, and fire

MISS BROUGHNE, NOT MRS. BROWN She is Not Concerned, She Says, in the Pratt-Leonard Dispute.

John T. Pratt, the playwright, who was arrested on Thursday at Koster & Bial's on complaint of Lawyer Henry W. Leonard, who accuses him of passing a bogus check for $40. was held at Jefferson Market yesterday in $500 bail for trial.

Harry Brown's friends on the Rialto were mystilled by Pratt's allusion to the Mrs. Actor Brown's divorced wife. He has only one divorced wife, they say, and that was enough for a comedian. Years ago, perhaps twenty, he married a pretty and shapely burlesque actress named Lillie West. She was a bright woman and a clever singer, but her married life was not happy, and half a dozen or more years ago she and Brown separated. She afterward got a divorce. Then she went with "The Hustler," a variety fares, in which she wore knee dresses. Later still she legan to write for the newspapers. She is now "Amy Loslie," and is a writer on theatricals for the Chicago News Record.

The "Mrs. Harry Brown" for whom Pratt wrote the play is better known as "Ethelya Broughne." She danced in "The Quaker Widows's Dance" at Pastor's a few weeks ago. She Is a short and plump brunette. Miss Broughne was in court, and denied Pratt's assertion that she was the cause of the trouble between Pratt and Leonard. Actor Brown's divorced wife. He has only one

HAD HIS CASE CALLED EARLY. and When the Complainant Did Not Answer Condon was Discharged.

When Mrs. Ellen Madden of 252 Thirteenth street, Brooklyn, went to the Butler street court yesterday morning to press her complaint of assault against Policeman Richard Condon of the Richard street station, she was informed by a court attaché that the case had informed by a court attaché that the case had been called, and as she did not answer the policeman was discharged.

Mrs. Madden says that she was told to be in court at 80 clock, and she was fifteen minutes early in getting there, although she said that Condon's whighad told her that 90 clock would be time enough. Justice Tighe said he did not know at what time Mrs. Madden was told to appear, but that Condon asked him to call his case early, and he did so. The Justice offered to take a new complaint from Mrs. Madden, but she said she preferred to take her complaint to Police Commissioner Hayden.

Mrs. Madden's charge is that Condon beat her in the face and on the arms and pulled a handful of hair from her head, because she tried to prevent him from beating Mrs. Condon.

NO ONE BLAMED.

Walker's Fall from the Versuda Was au Unavoidable Accident.

William Walker, the delirious patient who Kings County Hospital at Flatbush on Aug. 4. and jumped from the veranda to the lawn, a accident.

Superintendent Jesse T. Duryea testified that the fall was not serious enough to cause death, had it not been for his condition, due to a protracted stree and facial eryslocias, as a result of heat prostration.

The decision of the Commissioners was that the accident was an unavoidable one, and none of the attendants was consured.

Forger Dumas Sill at Large.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 .- E. G. C. B. Dumas, alias Dr. C. Moore, who was arrested yesterday in the Paimer House for the alleged forgery of a $650 check on the J. P. Lovell Arms Company of Boston, and afterward escaped from the detective, leaving behind him several trunks, has not yet been recaptured. The chief clerk of the Paimer House went through his trunks to-day to see it there was enough in them to pay Dumas's hotel bill. He found, among other things, twenty suits of clothes of the most fashionable Boston cut, nine hats of all styles, three fencing folia, and forty-two dunning letters from Park row, Boston, merchants.

Diphtheria la Scantor Vi'as's Hotel. Madison, Aug. 12.-Within the past few days several cases of diphtheria have been discovered at the Park Hotel, this city, which is owned by Senator Vilas. The Board of Health has not yet declifed to close the hotel, as the Senator declares that he will bring suit for damages in Section 1.

NEW BOOKS. Brief Reviews of Important and Interesting New Publications.

Mr. Julian Ralph, who has a great faculty for seeing things, and an uncontrollable habit of writing about them in an interesting man-ner, has written a book," On Canada's Border" (Harper & Brothers) which is full of information and delightful entertainment. pleased most with those parts of it which record the author's personal experience. His statistical account of the Western Canadian country is useful, but his narrative of adventures among the moose and the Indians and all the picturesque variety of backwoods phenomena is charming. He and Mr. phenomena is charming. He and Mr. Frederic Remington, the artist, made several excursions into the Northwest wilderness, and this book is largely the record of the curious. unconventional things they saw and did. evening, after a paralyzing dinner at the Fellowcraft Club, they concluded they had need mental and stomachic rest, and next morning they were off for the moose country. They bought appalling woollen swaddlings in Montreal, and in short order they were sleeping outdoors, faring on fat pork and boiling tea, and slaying the game they had come after. It is all delightfully explained with pen and pencil both. Mr. Remington, faithful and searching in portraiture, us exactly how he and Mr. Ralph appeared while trudging through the snow-clogged forest primeval. He has a habit of making his figures lean and spectacular; here, however, he has been absolutely true to his realistic conscience, and these figures are spectacular without being lean. The very expression that we should expect the wanderers to wear in the circumstances is perfectly brought out. Nobody can fail to see the effect that the pork and the tea and the violent exercise are producing in them Again Mr. Ralph and Mr. Remington went fishing on Lake Nepigon, wonderful home of ponderous trout, north of Lake Superior; and again they hired the Blackfoot nation to execute a war dance for them. Mr. Ralph made a visit to the home of Dr. Rudolph Meyer of Berlin, the political exile, who has established self, in company with the aristocratic French pioneers, the Comte de Cazes and the Comte de Raffignac, in the wilderness of Assinibola. It is curious enough to read of the delights with which the learned Doctor has provided himself on this remote frontier-of his Russian stove, his glass-sheltered veranda, his garden seeds, his library, and his wine cellar. But the book is full of vivid and charming description of things equally curious. We are under very great obligations both to the writer and to the illustrator. The Messrs. Harper have produced the volume in notably handsome fashion Three short stories by Wolcott Ballestier are published under the title of "The Average Woman" (United States Book Company), and the volume includes also an introductors sketch of the author by Mr. Henry James, Mr. James takes note of the modern spirit of Mr. Ballestier, of the great amiability which so generally endeared him, of his appreciation of the literary character, and of much else re-flecting upon his artistic and social side, but what he cared for, Mr. James says, was "the drama of business-the various human game." Of Mr. Ballestier's three stories, the most important is entitled "Reffey." It is a story of the West. The hero is Dave Lewis, a railroad conductor; the heroing, Rebecca Deacon, manager of an eating house on the line. The conductor has a good shape, regular features, and a melting eye; is particular about his dress, an I wears a celluloid collar and a Rhine stone collar button. He makes love to the eating-liouse manager over his tenderloin steak and fried potatoes, his bottle of St. Louis lager and double slice of lemon pie. The manager is a beauty with a temper. She does numerous unreasonable and exasperating things, and finally, on her wodding day, burns down the home which Dave has built and furnished with his stealings from the railroad company. The tale is a mixture of realism and, we should think, of somewhat unrealistic fancy. Certainly the tantrums of Reffey are not as recognizable as the celluloid collar and the lemon pie. They afford movement and surprise to the story, however, and plenty of readers will excuse them inasmuch as they do that.

"A Letter of Introduction," a farce, by Mr. W. D. Howells (Harper & Brothers), makes a volume in the miniature "Black and White Series." and a very amusing hour it affords to the reader. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts are here again, and Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, and the peculiarities of their different temperaments are brought out at their best by a visiting Eng. lishman, who also has peculiarities, which Mr Howells has handled with consummate skill. The idea of the deliberation of the average Englishman in seeing a joke has been pretty well employed by the humorists, but we have never seen so ingenious and amusing a demonstration of it before. We are reminded of the response of the thunder to the lightning when the storm is afar off. Willis Campbell utters a joke, the dialogue runs on and after an interval-a page or two, perhaps-the Englishman grasps the wittielsm and feels all its effects. Nothing could be more delicately and satisfactorily comic than this little farce. The reader who can keep a straight face over it has something the matter

A volume of short stories by Walter Besant is published by Harper & Brothers. The longest of these is "The Demoniac," that shocking tale of inherited appetite in which the hero finds that the only way to circum vent his devil, as his passion for strong drink is called, is to drop into the river and refrain from swimming. Another is called "Verbena Camella Stephanotis," that being the name bestowed by an enthusiastic botanist upon a daughter who develops a number of strong virtues and helps forward an interesting love match: another, "The Doubts of Dives," and a fourth, "The Doll's House-and After." This last is an account, serious in places pos-sibly, of the Helmer family twenty years after the time when Ibsen's drama is concerned with them. The abandoned hus-band is here a drunkard on his last legs; one of his sons is maintaining a good pace in the same path; the other son is a coxcomb and a thief, and the daughter, possessor of all the virtue that remains in the family, is so frightfully unhappy that she pressently drowns herself. The mother alone continues to get on in the world. She maintains her good looks, and the habit of living as she pleases seems to agree with her. She comes upon her drunken husband raving over the dead body of their daughter, but the sight escaped from his cot in the violent ward of the Kings County Hospital at Flatbush on Aug. 4. says. "with a strange man and his dead child !" Her friend, Christine Krogsrad, says distance of forty feet, died in that institution to her: "Norah, you will never—never forget this seene," but Mr. Besant gives us no f Charities and Correction was in session in another room of the hospital investigating the we should think his opinion was that she had made up her mind about those accidental doll's house people, and was not likely to change it.

"From the Books of Laurence Hutton" (Harper & Brothers) is a little collection of articles contributed by Mr. Hutton originally to the magazines. They are here revised, and some additions have been made to them. They contain a variety of curious information gathered from the author's library. One is an account of some American book plates—book plates being, as Mr. Hutton says few persons nowadays know, "the engraved or printed labels of any form or design, which, pasted in the inside of the covers of books, serve to denote the ownership thereof." The volume includes also articles upon the extra illustration of books, upon the authenticity of the portraits of Mary Queen of Scots, upon poetical dedications, and upon several other aubjects. All of the information is of a curious nature. and it is very entertainingly presented Four Private Libraries of New York: a Contribution to the History of Bibliophilism in New York," by Henri Perre Du Bois Duprat & Co.), is a curious and beautiful volume. calculated to gladden the eyes of any lover of handsome books. It contains an introduction in French by Octave Uzaane, and an amount fac-similes of notable bindings, several of them in color, as well as other charming illus-Of novels newly published and republished we note "That Wild Wheel," by Frances Eleanor Trollope: "Aunt Anne," by Mrs. W. K. Clifford, and "Three Feathers," by William Black (Harper & Brothers); "Margery of Quether," and other stories, by S. Baring-Gould (Lovell, Gestfeld & Co.); "Etelka's Vow," by Dorothea Gerard (D. Appleton & Co.); "The Heiress," by Henri Gréville, translated by Emma C. Hewitt and Julien Colmar (Worthington Company); "Sarchedon," by G. J. Whyte-Melville (Rand, McNally & Co.); "For the Sake of the Family." by May Crommelin and "Acteon," by Laura Daintrey (Hovendon Company); "An Unwedded Wife," by Geneviève Kirke (Morrill Higgins & Co., Chicago), and "The Colonel by Brevet," by St. George Rathborne (Price-McGill Company, St. Paul). Volume IL of "Practical Carriage Building. abundantly illustrated, compiled by Mr. M. T. Richardson, is published by the M. T. Richardson Company.

"Equitable Taxation" is a small volume containing essays by Walter E. Weyl, Robert Luce, Bolton Hall, J. Whidden Graham, John Winslow Cabot, and W. H. Cowles (Thomas Y. Crowell & Co.).

"Paganism Surviving in Christianity." by the Roy. Dr. Abram Herbert Lewis, is published by G. P. Putnam's Sons, and "Temperament, Disease, and Health," an essay by Commander French Ensor Chadwick, U. S. N., is from the same publishers.

A third and a revised edition of Louis Heilprin's admirable "Historical Reference Book" is published by the Messrs. Appleton.

Volume XVIL of the Critic contains the bound numbers of that excellent review for the first half of the present year (Critic Company).

"Trees of the Northern United States," by Prof. Austin C. Apgar, "The Lloyd System of Wood Working," by B. B. Hoffman, and "A Supplementary First Reader," by Rebecca D. Rickoff, are published by the American Book SEITLEMENT OF BULKHEAD RIGHTS.

More Than $500,000 Paid by the City-End of a Long Contest.

Comptrofler Myers paid out $507.089.75 yesterday in full settlement of bulkhead rights on the North River, between King and Leroy streets, over which the city and the property owners, from whom they were taken by the Dock Commissioners in 1877, have had a protracted legal contest. The owners received nothing from the city at the time, and they brought suit to determine how much the city should pay for the buikheads. Ex-President Cleveland, as referee, fixed the value at $100 a foot, but the Court of Appeals decided that $000 a foot should be allowed, and on this basis the following payments were made by the Comptroller; Woodbury S. Langdon, $50,-095.09; same, $58.885.48; Marion Langdon Carroll and Annie L. Langdon, $87,723.21; Matthew Wilks, $60,059.31; Eliza Wilks and Matthew Wilks, her husband, $10,072.68; New York Life Insurance and Trust Company, $11,-270; Cedia L. Nottbeck, $88,910.05; New York Life Insurance and Trust Company, $28,604.43; the same, $10,803.81; the same, $31,-503; Louisa D. King, $17,894.39; Walter Langdon, $01,087.82. brought suit to determine how much the city

Bad in Spots.

Davis Rubinstein, a Russian Hebrew of 18: Clinton street, called at Police Headquarters yesterday morning with parts of a chicken. He said he had bought the chicken at Ber man's butcher store, 9 Suffolk street, for sixty man's butcher store, 9 buffolk street, for sixty cents. He took fragments of the chicken back to the butcher, who refused to give him either his money or an untainted fowl. Rubinstein started into Superintendent Byrnes's office. The doorman caught him, and, after getting a whiff of his bundle, sent him to the Sanitary Bureau on the fifth floor. He was asked there what he had done with the rest of the chicken, and he said he had eaten it.

The butcher store will be investigated.

Good for You, Frank Cox. As Frank Cox of 147 Franklin street was passing the tenement at 92 Greenwich street, on his way to work, at 65 o'clock yesterday morning, he saw smoke coming from Louis spingarent's drug store, on the ground floor. Spingarent's drug store, on the ground floor. Cox ran through the house and aroused the tennets. They got out in a hurry. A woman told Cox that a boy named Johnny Connor was asleep in a room over the drug store. Cox broke open the door, groped his way through the smoke, and found Johnny almost sufficated in his bed. He recovered in the open air.

Lists of Candidates to be Advertised. Whatever the state of the laws is about the publication of election notices by the Sheriff. there is no doubt that the Electoral Reform law directs the Police Board to publish the official list of candidates nominated, and these will be advertised as usual.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE

DINIATURE ALMANAC-THIS DAY. Sun rises .... 5 98 | Sun sets .... 7 00 | Moon rises. 9 59 Sandy Hook.11 14 | Gov. Island.11 44 | Hell Gate. 1 3

Arrived-FRIDAY, Aug. 12. Aprived—Friday, Aug. 12.

Se Britannie, Smith, Liverpool.
Se Vega, Rosa, Lisbon.
Se John G. Christopher, Crawford, Jacksonville.
Se Boanose, Hulphers, Norfolk.
Se Boanose, Hulphers, Norfolk.
Se Ulen-hiel, Jones, Vokohama.
Se Victoria, Jehnston, Trieste.
Se Aeon, Howe, Cabharien.
Se Bermuda, Fraser, Barbadoes,
Se Aeon, Howe, Cabharien.
Se Bermuda, Fraser, Barbadoes,
Se Lianthony Abbey, Cooper, Hamburg.
Se Richmond, Jenney, Norfolk.
Se High, Whitting, Hallett, Hoston.
Se Miranda, Leseman, St. John, N. F.
Se Winthrop, Hought, St. John, N. E.
Bark Jota, Mazella, Seville.

[For later arrivals see F.rat Page.] ARRIVED OF Ss Friesland, from New York, off the Lizard.

SUTGOING STRANSBIPL Fulls (70ss. 8.30 A. M. 5.30 A. M. 6:30 A. M. 6:00 A. M. 7:00 A. M. 7:00 A. M. La Bourgogne, Havre..... Umbria, Liverpool Kaiser Withelm H. Bregien, Thingvalia, Christiansand. Maasiam, Rotterdam. El Mar. New Orleans..... Kansas City, Savannah, INCOMING STRANSUIPL

Gibraltar Liverpool Antwerp Gibraltar Hawter Hamburg Liabon Havre Swansea Liverpool Dur Sunday, Aug. 14. Liverpool Liverpool Antwerp Glasgow Huli Leith Auranta .. Due Monday, Aug. 15. Bremen Bremen Amsterdam Havana Laguayra Antwerp Glassow St. Thomas Due Wednesday, Aug. 17. Liverpool

Bremen Christiansand Havana London

Lor Thursday, Aug 18.

The Sun's Guide to New York Replies to questions asked every day by the puests and citizens of the American metropolis. Suggestions to sightseers and practical informa-tion for practical people. The Sun will publish, in time for use at the Columbus Celebration next Oclober, a compl-te, unique, and practical guide book to this city. It will tell visitors what the sights are, hors to reach them, where to lodge and board while here and the cost, where to do wholesale or retail shopping, how to amuse themselves, and get rest when weary of sightseeing. It will be attractively printed, pleasant to read, and the subject matter will be divided and arranged in a way to insure the best results. The retail price will be 25 cents per copy. The Sun's Guide will also offer unequalled and exceptional opportunities to advertisers. Those who wish further information on this subject should address The Guide Book Derantment of the New York Sun.

Business Aotices.

Smith & Angella' Hostery is unsurpassed for clor and wearing qualities. Retails at popular prices. Keep's Dress Shirts, to measure, 4 for $9.00 Kone better at any price, 800 and 811 Broadway.

MARRIED.

Dr. Lyon's Perfect Tooth Powder; white he teeth and purifies the breath. 25c.

BATES-JACOBUS,-At Newark, N. J., Aug. 10 1302, by the Rev. Henry Spellmeyer, Samuel Ar-thur Bates to Mary E. Jacobus.

HELD-RATHS.—At Newark, N. J., Aug. 10, 1802, by the Rev. Henry Spellmeyer, Joseph Francis Held to Sarah Elizabeth Rath.

JACOBUS - WHITE .- At Newark N. J. Aug. 10, 1802, by the Rev. Jahn S. Miller, Archibald F. Jacobus to Mary Elizabeth White. KEADNEY-MORRIS.-At Newark, N. J. Aug. 1

1892, by the Rev. John S. Miller, Henry F. Rearney PINDLE-SMITH,-At Newark, N. J., Aug. 11

SCIRWAB-LEWIF,-At Newark, N. J., Aug. 8 1892, by the Rev. Joseph Leucht, Leopold Schwah to Theresa Lewis.

DIED.

APPEL,-On Aug. 11, 1802, at Hoboken, N. J., Annie Appel, aged 20 years and 26 days.

Friends are invited to attend the funeral from her late residence, 60 Garden st., on Sunday afterneon, Aug. 14, at 2 o'clock. Interment at Flower Hill Cemetery.

BARTOSCIE.—On Aug. 12, 1892, at Irvington, N.

J., Louisa T. Bartosch, daughter of Julius and The-resa Bartosch, aged 17 years 8 months and 4 days. Friends are invited to attend the funeral from the residence of her parents, Orange av., Irvington, N. J., on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 14, at 2 o'clock. In-terment at Woodland Cometery.

terment at Woodland Cometery.

BARRY.—The anniversary mass for the repose of the soul of the Rev. John Barry, late paster of St. Peter's parish, New Brighton, S. I., will take place at the above church on Saturday, Aug. 18, at 10 BASSIN .- On Aug. 12, 1802, at Hoboken, N. J., Ida

Friends are invited to attend the funeral from the residence of her parents, 510 First st. on Saturday forenoon, at 9 o'clock. Interment in the Lutheran Cemetery.

BAUGHART,-On Aug. 11, 1892, at Jersey City. N. J., Sarah E. Baughart, aged 17 years and months.

Friends are invited to attend the funeral from the residence of her parents, 241 13th st., on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 14, at 2 o'clock, BRADLEY.—On Aug. 11, 1892, at Newayk, N. J., Matthew Brailey.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

CRAWFORD, -On Aug. 10, 1802, at Jersey City, N. J., John Crawford, only son of Patrick and Mary Crawford, aged 28 years. Priends are invited to attend the funeral from his late residence, 120 Steaben at, on Sunday after-noon, Aug 14, at 2 o'clock.

DAILEY.—John Manton Dailer, aged 58 years, on Wednesday morning, Aug. 10, at Lake Hill, Ulster county, N. Y.

Funeral on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from his late residence, 240 Rast 23d st.

DENNIS. -On Aug. 11, 1892, at Newark, N. J., Cyrus A. Dennis, aged 56 years. Friends are invited to attend the funeral from his late residence, 71 Warren st., on Sunday afternoon Aug. 14, at 2 o'clock, Interment at l'airmoun Cemetery, EV: NS,-On Aug. 10, 1892, Ellen Evans, beloved daughter of Thomas Evans, aged 11 years.

Funeral from her late residence, 327 East 52d st.,
Saturday at 1 P. M. Interment in Woodlawn.
FEINEY.-On Aug. 11, 1802, at Newark, N. J., Dennis Feeney, Sged S2 years, Friends are invited to attend the funeral from his late residence, 21 Mount Prospect av., on Sunday, Aug. 14, at 2 o'clock P. M., and from St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church at 2 o'clock. Interment at Cemetery of the Holy Sepuichre.

FLYNN, Suddenly on Aug. 10, at Philadelphia, Pa., John Fiynn, Jr., beloved son of John and Margaret Flynn, aged 11 years and 7 months. Funeral from the residence of his parents, 82 Lewis av., Brooklyn, to-day at 10 A. M. Friends and relatives invited to attend. Interment in Calvary

PREUN DE.-On Aug. 11, 1802, at Jersey City, N. J., Elsie Freunde, daughter of Frank W. and Mariida Freunde, aged 10 years. Friends are invited to attend the funeral from her late residence, 412 Jackson av., on Saturday, Aug. 12, at 2 o'clock P. M. GIBNEY.—On Aug. 11, 1892, at Jersey City, N. J., Bridget Gibnev, aged 61 years. Friends are invited to attend the funeral from her late residence. 8:38 Garfield av., on Saturday fore-mon, Aug. 13, at 9 o'clock.

GLADDING.—On Thursday, Aug. 11, William George, second eldest son of Laura A. Gilder and the late Asa W. Gladding, aged 20 years and 1 day. Funeral services at Sixth Avenue Methodist Episco pai Church, 6th av. and 8th st., Brooklyn, on Sun day, Aug. 14, at half-past 1 P. M.

II A 11 M E I., -On Thursday, Aug. 11, George F. Hammel, Sr., aged 50 years. Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral from his late residence, 5516 Howers et., Jersey City Heights, on Sunday, Aug. 14, at 2 P. M. HARLAND.—On Aug. 11, 1802, at Newark, N. J., George C. Harland, son of William H. and Virginia Harland, aged 17 years 4 months and 5 days. Friends are invited to attend the funeral from the residence of his parents, 180 Pennington st., on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 13, at 2:30 o'clock. In HINES, -On Aug 10, 1812, at Newark, N. J., Sarah lines, widow of John Hines, aged 56 years. Friends are invited to attend the funeral from the residence of her somin-law. Frederick Mess, 181 Spruce at., on Saturday forenoon, Aug 13, at 8 20 o'clock, and from St. Columbia Roman Catho he Church at 8:30 o'clock, where a solemn high mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of her sout. Interment at Cemetery of the Holy Sep-

HUGHES .- On Aug. 11, 1892, at Jersey City, N. J., Mary Hughes.
Friends are invited to attend the funeral from her late residence, 204 4th st., on Saturday forencen

Aug. 13, at 10 o'clock.

JONES,—At Poughkeepsie, Aug. 11, 1892, Samuel
Jones, son of the late Chancellor Samuel Jones, in the 07th year of his age. Funeral services from his late residence, 47 Cannon at. Poughkeepsie, on Monday, 15th inst., at 2 o'clock P. M. Carriages will be in waiting at station on arrival of train leaving Grand Central Depot EFAENS,-On Aug. 11, 1892, at Harrison, N. J., Mary A. Kearns, wife of James Kearns. Friends are invited to attend the funeral from the residence of her mother, Mrs. Anne Reilly, 329 War-ren at., on Saturday, Aug. 13, at 8:30 o'clock A. M., and from St. Joseph's R. C. Church at 8:30 o'clock where a high mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of her soul. Interment at Cemetery of the Holy Sepulchre.

the Holy Sepulchre. In HARNEY.-On Aug. 31, 1802, at Harrison, N. J. tieorge Francis Scarney, son of Margaret and the inte Francis Kearney, aged 7 years 9 months and 4

Friends are invited to attend the funeral from the residence of his mother, 304 Passaic av., Harrison, N. J., on Saturday, Aug. 13, at 2 o'clock P. M. In erment at Cometery of the Holy Sepolchre. LEWORT .- On Aug. 10, 1802, at 241 12th st., Jer. sey City, William Lemort, aged 1 year, 2 months and 23 days.

LEONARD,-On Aug. 10, 1892, at Harrison, N. J. Capt. Edward J. Leonard, aged 40 years.
Friends are invited to attend the funeral from his late residence. 46 Harrison av., Harrison, N. J., on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 14, at 2 o'clock. Interment at Fairmount Cometery.

MAIDHOF,-Catherine Frances, at the age of 27, beloved daughter of Thomas Shortell and Mary Lempsey, and beloved wife of Victor P. Maidhor departed this life Aug. 11.

Fineral takes place on Saturday, Aug. 13, from her parents' residence. 154 East 84th st.; thence to St. lawrence's Church, where a solemn requient mass will be said for the repose of her soul at half-past because. MORAN.-On Wednesday, Aug. 10, Delia Moran, native of county Westmeath, Ireland, in the 70th year of her age.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funora from her late residence, 21:7 Hedford av., on Saturday, Aug. 13, at 10 A.M.; thence to Sts. Feter and Paul's Church, Wythe av. and South 2d st., where a solemn mass of requiem will be offered for the sepose of her soul. Interment in Caivary. [DM.a.N.—On Thursday, Aug. 11, 1802, Mary, be-loved daughter of Johanna and the late James Funeral from her late residence, 206 Henry at., on Saturday, Aug. 13, 1802, at 2 P. M. MORGAN,-On Aug. 11, 1802, at 514 Grove at , Jersey City, Mary, wife of William Morgan, aged 74 years and 16 dars.

Friends are invited so attend the funeral on Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the North Baptist Church. Interment at the convenience of the Moran.

McCORMICE.-At Newark, S. J., Aug. 11, 1892. Hiram G. McCormick, aged 88 years. Friends are invited to attend the funeral from the uses Cleveland's baking powder exclusively. So would you if you tried it once.

Marion Harland

O'NEIL .- At Newark, N. J., Aug. 11, 1891, Philip Priends are invited to attend the funeral from his late residence, 03 Monroevi., on Monday, Ang. 15, at So'clock A. M., and from St. James's R. C. Church. where a high mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment at Cemetery of the Holy Sepulchre.

POMORISKI,-On Aug. 11, 1802, at Jersey City. N. J., Waciaw Pomoriski, aged 9 years. Funeral private. REGENBURG.—On Aug. 11, 1892, at Hoboken, N.

J., Julius G. W. Regenburg, aged 43 years. Friends are invited to attend the funeral from his noon, Aug. 13, at 2 o'clock. REYNOLDS,-On Aug. 10, 1802, at Jersey City, N.

J. Catherine Reynolds, beloved wife of Dominick Reynolds, aged 53 years. Friends are invited to attend the funeral from her late residence, 182 Morgan st., on Saturday fore-noon, Aug. 13, at we'clock, and from St. Mary's R. C. Church at 10 o'clock, where a high mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of her soul. Interment at Calvary Cemetery.

RICHTER,—Suddenly on Aug. 12, at residence,
303 East 19th st. Mathilda, beloved wife of Julius Richter.

Funeral Sunday at 1 P. M. Interment in Evergreens. SHEERY,-On Thursday, Aug. 11, 1802, Michael Sheeby, native of county Cork, Ireland. Relatives and friends are invited to attend his funeral from his late residence, 317 East 23d at., on Satur day, Aug. 13, at 10:30 A. M., thence to the Church of the Epiphany, 221 st. and 3d av., where a solemo mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment in Calvary Cemetery.

SHEPHEND.—Suddenly, on July 10, at St. Vin-cent's, Malabar IIII, Bombay, Alice Costello, wife or Joseph Shapherd.

BMITH. -- Entered into rest at Mt. Vernon, N. Y.Aug. 11, 1807, Charlotte A., wife of Peter A. Smith, in her 88th year. Funeral from her late residence, 253 South 6th av., on Saturday at 3 P. M. TROW BRIDGE, -- Suddenly, on Friday afternoon Aug. 12, at New Haven, Conn., Prof. W. P. Trow bridge of Columbia College.

Notice of funeral nereafter. FURNER.-On Aug. 11, 1892, at 341 4th st., Jersey City. Nellie, daughter of Charles H. Turner, aged Friends are invited to attend the funeral from her late residence, 341 4th st., on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at the convenience of the VAN CLEVE, -On Aug. 12, 1892, at Newark, N. J., Reion M. D. Van Cleve, aged 75 years. Friends are invited to attend the funeral from her late residence, 410¼ Plane street, on Sunday, Aug. 14, at 2 o'clock, Intermentat Fairmount Cametery, WILLIAMS.—On Aug. 9, 1882, at Montelair, N. J., Caroline A. E. Williams, wife of E. H. Williams. Friends are invited to attend the funeral from her late residence, 36 Park st. Montelair, N. J., on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 13, at 3 o'clock. Carriages will meet the 1:40 P. M. train from New York, WOOD, -On Aug. 12, 1892, at Jersey City, N. J., Jo-seph Churchill Wood, son of Benjamin L, and Cath-erine Wood, aged 6 years 3 months and 16 days.

Notice of funeral hereafter. Special Motices.

CHILDREN HAVING WORMS Require immediate attention. "BROWN'S VERMIFUG COMFITS" are the "BEST WORM LOZENGES" to us give relief quickly. For sale by druggists. 25c, box.

A REMARKABLE NOVEL

New Publications,

ZINA'S AWAKING.

Mrs. J. Kent Spender, Author of "Till Death Us do Part,"
"Gabrielle de Lourdaine,"

"Mr. Nobody," etc.

ILLUSTRATED BY WARREN B. DAVIS. 12mo. Handsomely Bound in Cloth.

Price, $1.00. Paper Cover, 50 Cents. Some Opinions of the English Press:

Liverpool Mercury .- "In this noble story Mrs. Spender takes her place in the front rank of living English novelists. Apart from the style. which is clear and beautiful, there is throughout the whole work a play of such intense sympathy with all that is noble in manhood and womanhood, and at the same time such a manifestation of self-conscious strength, that the conviction is irresistible that in this write: we have an author whose name will some day be a household word."

London Academy,-"Zina Layton is one of the most remarkable women that have an peared in recent fiction. . . . Altogether, 'Zina's Awaking' is the best novel Mrs. Kent Spender has yet published."

London Speciator .- "Mrs. Spender is not mere manufacturer of fletion for the libraries: she is an artist with a fine feeling for artistic ends and a true instinct for the means by which they are to be attained."

For sale by all booksellers and newsdealers, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, by the publishers.

ROBERT BONNER'S SONS, Cor. William and Spruce Streets, New York.

CROSS CURRENTS.

By MARY ANGELA DICKERS. No. 59, Town and Country Library. 12mo, paper 50 cents, cloth $1.00.

"There have been few better judges of fiction than Charles Dickens, and had he lived to read his grand daughter's first novel the veteran writer would have found pleasure in the shought that, after he was some the name of Dickens would still be homerably associated with imaginative literature. Grans Current so not only an excellent novel, but it is distinguished by a kind of excellence which is exceedingly fare in the work of a beginner. Every page inspires one with a desire to meet its author again. I amon spaciator.

"A new novel of original power and great promise."
-Scotsman. "Decidedly above the average of contemporary formances. We turn the inst page with regret."-"He equality of excellence is as uncommon as it is delightful."—Loudon Academy.

For sale by all booksellers, or will be sent by mail on receipt of price by the publishers D. APPLETON & CO.,

1, 3, and 5 Bond Street, New York, Now Ready-The September Part of the Young Ladies' Journal.

The best Journal for Ladies and Families, containing the latest and best fashious, profusely it lastrated a macraoth reloved an penent of isshious numerous complete stories of absorbing interest, and the organizing of a Bow and original strip, entitled "Mill = 184 Ant 18 Ar Z / ROT" basides New Aman, Enth othery Bearings Ar. The most compacte magazine for ladies jutilished.

Price, 360 venis, Searly, 84 GO, including the forestimation summer. All new sceners, and THE INTERNATIONAL NEWS CO. NEW YORK.

4 NEW NOVELS 15 Cents. n the SEPTEMBER NUMBER of the FAMILY LIBRARY MONTHLY. THE INTERNATIONAL SEMS OF, NEW YORK.
Solid and Solid Business, one short cast of Broadway.
Subactifitions Received for any Periodical, Poreign or Domestic.

residence of his son-in-law, John B. Williams, 1
Johnson av., on Faturday, Aug. 18, at 1 o'clock P.
M. Interment at New Dover, N. J., at convenience of the family.

Window Cartle. Catalogue Cartle.

The Rew Publications.

Odd Number Series.

SELECT TRANSLATIONS FROM WORKS OF FICTION BY FOREIGN AUTHORS, WITH CRITICAL INTRO-DUCTIONS BY AMERICAN AUTHORS.

FRENCH.

Ten Tales by Francois Coppes.
Translated by WALTER LEARNED. With Fifty Pen-and-ink Drawings by Albert E. Sterner, and an Introduction by BRANDER MATTHEWS. 16mo, Cloth, Ornsmental, $1.25.

Capital specimens of their kind. Coppes has a high ethical tone as wall as a weet and airy fancy, and his writings are full of that pendiar French genius which breathes into the details of description a character that brars the reader slong with the motif of the tale. We have read these stories with unnized delight.-Cherchman, N. Y.

Pastels in Prose — (From the French). Translated by STUART MERRULL. With 150 Illustrations (including Frontispiece in Color) by H. W. McVickar, and Introduction by W. D. Howells. 16mo, Cloth, Ornamental, $1.25.

In the department of pure literature a more notable translation in more appropriate dress has rarely come to our table. - Boston Adrer-

The illustrations are all charming, and acsociate themselves to the text .- N. 1. Times.

The Odd Number. -- Thirteen Tales by GUY DE MAUPASSANT. The Translation by Jonathan Stur-GES. An Introduction by HENRY James. 16mo, Cloth, Ornamentel, $1.00.

Mr. Sturges's sense of the French meaning of the French, so to speak, is remarkably evinced on almost every page. As a model of transfusion (rather than translation) of the spirit of an alien art into a language not overreceptive, we can think of nothing better than "The Piece of String" and "A Ghost," at here rendered.-Independent, N. Y.

NORWEGIAN.

Tales of Two Countries. By ALEX-ANDER KIELLAND. Translated by WILLIAM ARCHER. An Introduction by H. H. Boyesen. With Portrait. 16mo, Cloth, Ornsmental, $1.00.

It is with a sort of mental delight that one reads Alexander Kielland's "Tales of Two Countries," for he tells his stories in such a way that each successive picture - simple, pleasant, ludicrous, or pathetic-is vivid in its reality . . . The exquisite art with which every story or sketch is put together.—Congre-

GERMAN. Dame Care. By HERMANN SUDER-MANN. Translated by BERTHA OVERBECK. With Portrait. 16mo,

Cloth, Ornamental, $1.00. There is a freshness in this novel because there is genuine human nature in it.-Phile delphia Press.

Of remarkable power.-Boston Traveller. The story is told with a depth of meaning and heauty of language that fascinate the ronder. - New Laven Palladium.

ITALIAN.

The House by the Medlar-Tree. By GIOVANNI VERGA. Translated from the Italian by MARY A. CRAIG. An Introduction by W. D. Howells. 16mo, Cloth, Ornamental, $1.00.

natural in rapyoment, and very characteristic. Theanalysis of character is always unobtrusive, subtle, and incisive .- N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

A beautiful story beautifully told; and se admirable does the translation seem to be that the ren ler is unconscious of a single alien

The dialogue throughout is rich in color.

SPANISH-AMERICAN.

note.—Academy, London.

Maria: A South American Romance. By JORGE ISAACS. Translated by ROLLO OGDEN. An Introduction by THOMAS A. JANVIER. 16mo., Cloth, Ornamental, $1.00. A love story-postical, tender, tragical . . Abounding in delightful home scenes and tender passages of love and friendship.-Epoch, N. Y. The great forests of cottonwood, palms, and other tropical plants, the almost impassable rivers, the rich flowers which seem to spread their fragrance over every page, make a fasci-nating background to a story of tender sentimont .- Boston Journal.

FROM MANY LANDS.

Modern Ghosts. Selected and Translated from the works of GUY DE MAUPASSANT, PEDRO AN-TONIO DE ALARCON, ALEXANDER KIELLAND, LEOPOLD KOMPERT, GUSTAVO A. BECQUEE, and G. MAGHERINI-GRAZIANI. An Introduction by Gronge William Cur-TIS. 16mo, Cloth, Ornamental,

A theroughly artistic and charming contributton to that class of literature of which imaginative minds never weary, - Easton Tran-Has that cosmopolitan flavor which, in current fletion. seems to be worthy of all honor.-

Published by HARPER & BROTHERS, New York. Any of the above works will be sent by mail postage paid, to any part of the United States, Canada, or Mexico, on receipt of the price.

Boston Leacon.